Overview:
Due to the extraordinary and rapidly changing circumstances surrounding COVID-19, the Boulder Shelter for the Homeless will be sharing periodic updates about its services. The Shelter is focused on continuing its work to shelter and feed our community’s most vulnerable, and striving to keep everyone—both clients and staff—safe by keeping the facility virus-free. The Shelter conferences regularly with the City of Boulder, the City of Longmont, Boulder County, Boulder Public Health and our sister agencies to ensure all services for those experiencing homelessness are coordinated.

Coordinated Entry
- The Boulder Shelter operates all coordinated entry for Boulder County
- Currently, all assessments are being conducted by telephone. In Boulder, the number is 303-579-4404 and in Longmont it is 303-579-7364.
- For the week starting May 17th, 26 assessments were completed

Overnight Shelter
- The Shelter is promoting social distancing, hand-washing, and other measures promoted by the CDC and local health officials, as much as is possible in a communal living arrangement
- The Shelter is screening residents at intake each night for CV-19 symptoms
- Average bed-night census for the week starting May 17th was 85 individuals per night
- Total meals served for the week were 1,200

Recovery Center
- Anyone with CV-19 symptoms is now being referred to the Recovery Center, located at the East Boulder Rec Center. The Recovery Center is managed by the City of Boulder and is open for individuals showing symptoms of COVID-19.
- Transportation is being provided to the Recovery Center
- For the week starting May 17th, the Shelter referred No individuals to the Recovery Center

Severe Weather Shelter
- The Severe Weather Shelter, located at 2691 30th Street in Boulder, is managed by Bridge House
- The Severe Weather Shelter will be open nightly through May 31st. Intake until 9:00 pm.
- Day shelter, from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm, is open at 2691 30th Street until May 31st
- All clients are screened for COVID-19 symptoms prior to admittance.

The Shelter relies on community donations to sustain its work. We are collecting both in-kind donations and financial support. For more information, please visit www.bouldershelter.org
